Financial Advisor Alliance is recruiting FAs from Morgan Stanley/Smith Barney to Wells Fargo Advisors. Wells Fargo Advisors offers Flexible Business Models for Financial Advisors who come on board.

- Private Client Group - Our traditional, full service retail brokerage option for advisors who have been successful growing their own business in a branch office.
- Wealth Brokerage Services - Working in partnership with Wells Fargo & Company, WBS Advisors have access to state of the art brokerage capabilities and a built in referral network from bankers in stores across the country. They also have access to integrated wealth services such as private banking, investment management, trust and investment planning through our many wealth hubs.
- FiNet (financial Network) - Created for Advisors who want to be independent business owners, like all financial advisors, they benefit from our firm's robust offering of products and services. Meanwhile, they exercise the responsibility, judgement and control of owning a business outright.

There's a lot of movement today in the financial services world. Advisors align themselves with the reputations of the institutions they associate themselves with. Clients can see the same news reports that we see.

For over 150 years the Wells Fargo name has meant solidity, permanence, quality, and long standing excellence.

Financial Advisors from Morgan Stanley/Smith Barney are invited to explore the benefits of moving over to a company that's not getting bailed out or scrambling for cover, or making their employees unhappy. If for any reason you are unhappy at Morgan Stanley/Smith Barney call Financial Advisor Alliance and we can put a smile back into the equation.
